

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Plans for the reorganization of the Danielson Business Men's Association are progressing favorably, the present activities being centered in making arrangements for the "booster" banquet to be held at the Attitash hotel early in May and in securing new members and the collection of dues for the year from old ones. Altogether, fifty associates along Main street have signed aboard the "band wagon" and have pledged their wholehearted support to any movement or undertaking that have for their object the stimulation of the local business. As there are still quite a number of business men who have not yet been approached, it is expected that when the membership drive is over, the list will show nearly 100 names.

President Ellwood of the association has appointed A. F. Bales, Clifford H. Starkweather and George F. Davidson the committee to arrange for the booster banquet—the affair that is to boost the association and boost Danielson as a trading center for the territory for miles around.

At a meeting of the association board of directors the secretary was instructed to write to C. Reisinger of Boston, post-office department superintendent for the district of which Danielson is a part, and to request him to assign a mail car to the train that will arrive in Danielson at 6:45 p. m. on and after April 24. This mail car service it is stated, would be a decided advantage to local people, particularly those in business, and they prefer having the mail messenger on the evening boat train, rather than on the afternoon train. In an endeavor to obtain this service, the association directed the secretary to ask the superintendent of the post office to grant the concession desired.

Arrests made in the Putnam territory by inspectors of the state motor vehicle department, for such violations of the motor vehicle laws as driving without proper lights, without operators' licenses and for similar common infractions of the rules has made motorists all through this territory take particular notice. Particularly are those taking a chance of arrest by driving without having a license to do so paying heed, fearing similar inspections in this immediate territory.

Funeral services for Joseph Robert, who died in a Worcester hospital, were held at St. Joseph's church in Danville, Rev. Ignatius Kost being celebrant of the mass of requiem. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery. L. E. Kennedy was the funeral director.

Mr. Robert was a resident of Goodyear and for years was engaged in the teaming and trucking business in that place.

The railroad yard here is piled up with ties hauled in recently from all the surrounding wooding territory. The price of ties dropped 30 cents since last Friday and prior to that time motor trucks worked practically day and night getting ties delivered before the lower prices became effective. Some trucks unloaded here at 2:30 a. m.

Dr. J. N. Perreault is president of the Windham County Medical society, which is to hold its annual meeting this week at Putnam. Dr. Perreault will preside at the meeting, which will consider business and then devote time to hearing special papers prepared by well known physicians. Dinner is to be served by the physicians.

Chairman Henry P. Dube, of the local

PUTNAM

Committee of an American organization for relief in Ireland, announced Monday afternoon that the drive is closed, and that the total amount subscribed was $1327.74.

The quota unofficially set for this territory was $1399, as the excess obtained over that amount may be regarded as a measure of the liberality of the general public in contributing to the fund. Chairman Dube, in behalf of the committee associated with the drive, expressed his appreciation of the generosity of the public and thanks to all who gave in either large or small sums. It was set so much the amount of the drive as the spirit of good will toward thousands of suffering women and children that counted with the workers.

The territory canvassed included the towns of Killam and Brown. In every section visited generous amounts of money were obtained and this all has been turned over to Treasurer Clifford H. Starkweather, of the local committee. The committee to be expressed its appreciation, through Chairman Dube, of the courtesy of the Danielson Trust company in allowing the use of its banking rooms for committee headquarters.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headache, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep their face, liver and bowels.

varieties of excursions were offered by automobile drivers, hauled in by the official dragsmen, and the owner of School and Mechanic street, Saturday afternoon and evening and again Sunday, when the officers against the motor vehicle law were brought before Judge M. H. Gledhill in the city court, Monday morning.

When the prosecutor had the information ready he said that he would assume a "gallant attitude" and "take the ladies first."

Mad. L. Bishop, of Providence, and Sarah A. Sweet, also of the Rhode Island capital, were charged with driving automobiles without having the car registration with them. The Dickey woman said that last Wednesday the car was put in a garage and the registration was taken out of the pocket in the car for safety. When the machine was taken out again Saturday she forgot to put the registration card in the car. A fine of $5.00 was imposed and she paid. The Sweet woman said that the car she was driving was not her own and that after she reached home the owner told her that he had put the card under the seat. She had no money and the court believed her story and the case was nolle.

It happened that in the car with M. R. Swartz, of Storrs Agricultural College, was a friend who had an operator's license in Massachusetts. While Swartz admitted that in his hurry to leave and take some students to Worcester to play baseball he picked up his 1920 license instead of his 1921 license and did not know the laws of the state, the court decided that the fact that there was a man in the car who had a legal license covered the law, although there had been some difference of opinion as to whether this is legal; but Swartz was given the benefit of the doubt and the case was nolle.

William F. Gledhill, of Lonsdale, R. I., had a license but he changed his clothes and forgot to remove the license from his pocket and transfer it to the cost he wore. His forgetfulness cost him $5.00. Aime LaFrance, of Pawtucket, received his 1921 license last Friday but did not change for his old one. He paid $5.00.

Arthur Flinbach, of Worcester, charged with driving his car without proper license, said that the Ford dealer in Worcester told him to place his license in the car where legal anywhere. It cost Arthur $14.00 to find out that his informant was mistaken.

Albert A. Anderson, of Southbridge, was driving a car equipped with Warner's license when he was stopped by a police officer. He said that they were legal in the Bay State. He was ordered to pay the minimum fine of $10 for this offense, with costs of $4.00.

J. A. Barney, of Norwich, said he bought a new car in Worcester and was driving it home. He said he "didn't" pay much attention to the headlight equipment. His fine and costs amounted to $15.00.

Julian Beuchard, of Eastford, R. I., didn't have an operator's license and had illegal headlights. He forgot his license and didn't know about the headlight law, he said, although he admitted that he lives within 20 miles of the Connecticut line.

Stanley Ballard, son of Newton A. Ballard of Putnam, was home from a Boston college over the week end. He was driving his father's car. He admitted that he never did have a license and was "taking a chance." The charge cost him $14.00 and he made out a personal check for this amount.

John Bucki, of Putnam, has not taken out a license this year. He said a "rich friend" takes him to drive his (the friend's) car to Mechanicsville. He did get into the drag-net, and it cost him $14.00.

Howard Gould of Walpole, Mass., produced a Massachusetts chauffeur's license. He was driving a car with a Connecticut license, and the court ruled that he was within the law and the case was nolle.

Several other cases of a similar nature will be taken up later.

Announcements have been received of the marriage in Brooklyn, N. Y., April 18th, of Miss Jane L. Hinchins, daughter of Frederick H. Hinchins, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Woodstock and Milward Crosby, of New York city. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. Richard Roberts of the Church of the Pilgrims, Brooklyn, officiated. Mrs. Bates was matron of honor and Le Roy Chaboussier of New York was best man. The bride is well known in Putnam, and her husband was a member of the Woodstock summer colony.

The thermometer dropped during Monday morning and the cold rain turned into a little snow on Tuesday.

Superintendent Dumas and men of the highway department are scraping and top dressing the streets of the city.

Dr. and Mrs. G. T. Lamarche motored to Springfield, their old home, on Sunday.

Following a series of small fires, mostly chimneys and grass fires, the local department has not had to respond to an alarm in several weeks.

Arrangements have been made to have Dr. Hugh B. Campbell, of the New York State Tuberculosis Sanatorium come to the Day Kimball hospital in this city on the afternoon of the second Tuesday of each month, for consultation.

Mrs. Joseph Mansfield has returned to the home of Ruben Mansfield, Grand View, having spent the winter in Providence and Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Dagget, who have been boarding at the home of Mrs. W. H. Longdon, on Grove street, have rented the tenement in the new house of Louis Wolfe on Fremont street.

Charles L. Johnson, a member of the state board of education, went to Hartford, Monday morning, to attend a board meeting.

Miss Alma Conz, who underwent an operation for appendicitis in Providence has returned to her home in Putnam.

Henry L. Converse, letter carrier at the Putnam postoffice, has erected a number of new letter boxes in accordance with a contract awarded him.

The funeral of Charles Parker was held Wednesday afternoon. Burial was in North Hill cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Johanna Young took place Friday morning. She was buried in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mrs. Margaret O'Brien was buried Wednesday morning in St. Mary's cemetery.

A stereoscopic lecture, Friday evening in the Congregational church was given by the pastor, Rev. Charles G. Johnson. The title was "The Land of the Midnight Sun." Although the weather was stormy, quite a few attended.

The Ladies' association is to meet Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank J. Tracy.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Woodworth of Noank spent the week end with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Woodworth.

Mr. and Mrs. George Tolman and daughter Marion have moved to the house owned by Mrs. Mary Briggs.

George Taylor and family are moving to the new home which he purchased recently.

New Haven.—The members of the New Haven Pastors' union at a meeting the other day took up the question of the question whether or not there should be more churches in this city, and whether or not it would be advisable to consolidate some of them.

HELPLESS WITH RHEUMATISM

Until He Took "Fruit-a-tives" Or Fruit Liver Tablets

R. R. No. 1, Loxley, Ore.

"For over three years, I was confined to bed with Rheumatism. I treated with doctors and tried nearly everything without benefit.

Finally, I tried 'Fruit-a-tives'. Before I had used half a box, I saw improvement; the pain was easier and the swelling started to go down.

I continued taking this fruit medicine, improving all the time, and now I can walk about two miles and do light chores about the place."

JEWETT CITY

An explosion occurred in Wolf's garage on South Main street shortly before 9 o'clock Monday afternoon. Gerald Wolf, son of the proprietor, and Clarence Kahn, son of the proprietor, were both working on the job when only a few inches remained to saw the tank had once contained gasoline and a small quantity, probably not over a pint, remained down in the curve of the tank which was lying on its side.

Many people living near or passing at the time heard the explosion which lifted the roof, blew out the windows, and wrecked the inside of the building.

The fire company responded to the call of 31 in record time, but the resultant fire had been pretty well conquered by Mr. Wolf and Mr. Kahn.

In the Griswold town court Monday morning, John Godek was found guilty of violation of the liquor law, three counts. Judge A. M. Brown sentenced him to 30 days in jail on each count, a total of 90 days. Godek appealed. This was Godek's second offense.

Stanley Townsend was fined $100 and costs and his bartender $25 and costs. Both produced the coin.

A birthday party in honor of Miss Evelyn Carpenter was given at the home of Miss Beatrice Reed, on Palmer avenue, Saturday evening, there being sixteen of Miss Carpenter's friends present. They enjoyed music on the piano and claret, champagne, cake and coffee were served.

Monday, the fourth day of the north-easterly storm, was as disagreeable as can be made. There was both rain and snow, with a temperature which dropped as low as 37 degrees. All day, and for three days before the wind had sung steadily a little north of east.

The time changes to be adopted by the railroad, effective June 1st, and not as yet settled upon. It was rumored on Monday afternoon, and with pretty good evidence of correctness, that the first schedule has been to a considerable extent changed. The new train schedule bids on the new trains have been called off.

It would be a serious handicap for the big mills in the town to have the late southbound mail train leave here at 2:45 instead of 4:45. If that schedule were allowed to remain, there would probably be some method established by the department to dispatch New York mail from the boat train which will leave a little later.

The vital statistics for the town of Griswold for March show six deaths: Amy Martha Douglas, of cancer, aged 75; Nelson Ide, of cancer, aged 63; Martha Gardner, of cerebral hemorrhage, aged 64; Stanley Yukuroki, of convulsion, aged 7 months; Stanislaus Garetka, of cancer, aged 44; and John S. Saura, of pneumonia, aged 1 month.

Marriages: Edmund Doyon and Dora Carter, Robert F. Passuzzi and Madeline Ferro, Frederick H. Fanning and Flora Miller, all in Griswold, by Rev. Arthur Varley, March 13.

Nine births were recorded: Ellen Etnella Brown, Flora Kumon, Rosa Romanek, Stanislaus Arlek, Emma Katherine Palmer, Joseph Blanche, Katherine Claire Brennan, Evelyn Helena Lutz and Cecilia Duff.

Arthur Madison, 56, of Voluntown, died at the Bankus hospital, Sunday night. He was born in Voluntown 16 years ago. He was a son of John Madison and the late William Madison. He was married and had children, mother, brothers and sisters in Voluntown.

Walter Mauseau and Miss Malonia LaRoux were married at St. Mary's church Monday morning by Rev. J. H. Steierman. The witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Leon LaRoux.

The Women's Missionary society of the Congregational church met at the home of Mrs. G. H. Jennings last week. A most interesting and instructive talk, "Conditions in the Near East" was given by Miss Sarah L. Hadley of Lisbon. The talk was illustrated by maps and pictures.

A handsome organ was presented Monday afternoon in token of appreciation. Mrs. Jennings served refreshments.

The following new books have been added to the Stiller Library: A Treasury of War Poetry, (second series); Flower of the Dusk Road; Father Allan's Island; Amy Murray; The Rose Dawn; White; Green Rust; Wallace; Emmy Lou; Martin; The Trumpeter; Frank Bailey; The Hundredth Chance; Dell; The Lone Star Ranger; Grey; Returned Empty; Barclay; Poor Man's Rock; Sinclair; Marcella Schuyler; Lutz; The Valley of the Kings; Grey; The Calling of Dan; McChesney; Wright; Eva to the Rescue; Rueson; Nan of Music Mountain; Spearman; Miss Millie's Maid; Onions; 25 Jayne Street; Austin; The Book of Boats; Shackleton; At the Back of the North Wind; Epitaphs of the Doll Shop; Rhoades; Adventures of a Brownie; Miss Mulock; The Little Lame Prince; Miss Mulock; The Shortest Grey; The Young Witch; Grey; The Day of the Dragon; The Uses of Diversity; Chesterton; Autobiography of Margot Aquilini; Man from Ashkama; Wewot; Open Season; Reynolds; The Courage of Marge O'Donnell; Burwood; The Mystery Rider; Grey; The Rhythmic Barn; Lutz; The Strength of the Pines; Marshall; From the Valley of the Missing; White; West Wind Drift; McCutcheon; Drums of Jeopardy; MacGraith; Mieson; Anne; Riley; The Circular Staircase; Rinehart; That Affair Next Door; Green; Main Street, Lewis; Back to God's Country.
